Guardsmen Break Up Gathering in Village with Tear Gas Bombs

By The Associated Press

ATHENS O Aug 12—Gun fire dynamite explosions and the burning of three houses marked activities in a renewal of violence in the Athens county coal field last night and early today

The disorders started shortly after the day crew of the No 25 mine of the Manhattan Coal Co at Chauncey quit work late yesterday As the men were leaving the shaft a cross fire of machine gun and high powered rifle fire raked the mine property No one was hurt

Firing from north and east of the mine forced working miners to seek cover five houses in the vicinity of the shaft were bullet scarred The fire was returned by Ohio National Guardsmen but early today no one could be found who had been injured in the exchange of shots

Crowd Dispersed

Immediately after the firing ceased an unruly crowd that forced National Guardsmen to use tear gas bombs congregated on the streets of Chauncey The crowd was dispersed after guardsmen used half a dozen bombs

Darkness had descended on the town by the time this disorder was quelled and hardly had the last of the evening dusk cleared out of the western skies than a dynamite explosion started the village A heavy fog had descended and authorities could not immediately learn the scene of the explosion It was believed however the blast was set off at the edge of the town

John Walker an employe of the No 25 mine was the next victim of disorders His home was stoned and two windows upstairs and four down stairs were demolished The house was occupied by Walker his wife and several small children

Ohio Motorcade Convinced Hoover Is Choice of People for President.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI O Aug 12—The motorcade of Ohio Republican candidates set out today on the last lap of its state tour after stopping here overnight and hearing President Hoover's acceptance speech

The candidates headed by David S Ingalls gubernatorial aspirant will stop at noon at Portsmouth for a conference with party workers and end their five-day tour at Columbus tonight

Before leaving today Ed D Schorr of Cincinnati issued a statement saying their excursion "has convinced us the people as a whole are not in an frame of mind to take their government from the hands of He bert Hoover"

The delegation joined by Republican leaders of the first and second congressional districts had dinner and conferred at the Belman home last night, afterward listening to Mr Hoover's speech over the automobile radio.

Ingalls said the speech outlined "the most sane and logical course for the future of our country" and Bellman lauded it as "a statesmanlike speech of the first magnitude. Charles H Lewis, state Republican campaign manager praised the President for dealing with funda mentals "which is a guarantee against unsound temporary measures to solve difficult problems"

DRY LEADER RAPS HOOVER'S STAND

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND Ore, Aug. 12 — Dr Clarence True Wilson, head of the Methodist Episcopal church board of prohibition, temperance and public morals, said in a written statement to the Associated Press, "President Hoover's stand on prohibition will not get the vote away from the Democrats and will not meet with the moral conditions of the dry who elected him by a majority of millions four years ago"

The national dry leader said that although the President made the "greatest speech of his life," he fell into two "fundamental and irreparable errors" assumption that the purpose of prohibition is to get rid of the saloon and the policy of debauchery."

Three Abilities Combined in Man's Unusual Career

James H Eymon, Marion Lawyer, Also Safe Lock Expert and Trapshooter.

A combination of unusual abilities is possessed by James H Eymon 58 of 656 South Prospect street His profession he is a lawyer by hobby a wizard with combination locks of all kinds and by recreation he is a trapshooter of considerable ability

Is most interesting experiences with these three abilities has been with combination locks which are so complicated that the average person has but a vague conception of their operation

Hundreds of locks have drawn their bolts under Mr Eymon's skillful hands In Marion and other cities where he has opened safes and vaults that have baffled other experts he is credited with being able to open any combination lock

Has Opened 1,500 Safes

No less than 1,500 vaults safes and combination locks of every description have been opened by Mr Eymon during the last 17 years Each one presented a problem that the owner could not solve And in most cases the problem was a different one requiring ingenuity as well as skill

A Marion resident who called on Mr Eymon at his office at 119½ South Main street recently was mystified when Mr Eymon opened his own safe while carrying on a conversation and looking away from the safe The visitor was in credulous until he had given the dial several spins with his own hand and had seen the performance repeated

Mr Eymon refuses to tolerate the idea that there is anything mysterious about combination locks It's all a matter of mechanics he declared but a few minutes conversation disclosed that the matter of mechanics is not as simple as it might sound

"Feels Way Through"

Possessing a thorough knowledge of lock construction he virtually feels his way through the combination of a stubborn safe or vault

He scoffs at the story book practice of superhuman safe openers sandpapering their fingertips to make them more sensitive before opening a safe It's all bunk he declares

During his many years working on locks he never has encountered a safe or vault he could

MAN'S SKULL TRIAL EXHIBIT

Part of Clarke's Skeleton Introduced as Evidence in Miami Murder Case

PHYSICIANS TESTIFY

Commission of Specialists Who Held Autopsy on Witness Stand Today

By The Associated Press

MIAMI Fla Aug 12 — The bullet pierced skull of Haden Clarke writer and mysteriously slain fiance of Mrs J M Keith Miller was brought into the court room today at the trial of Captain W N Lancaster for Clarke's murder

The skull along with slides showing parts of the head were brought before the jury and spectators by Dr M H Tallman defense witness and one of a commission of four specialists who conducted an autopsy on the body of the young author

Lancaster charged with slaying Clarke as an act of jealous retribution after the author replaced him in the affections of Mrs Keith Miller peered intensely at the skull

After brief argument by counsel the skull was admitted as evidence, but the slides were temporarily withheld

This was because Dr Tallman said it would be impossible without chemical analysis to tell whether the head tissue was powder marked a "frequent characteristic of suicide"

After the skull was displayed briefly it was placed in a square cardboard box and laid on the desk of the court clerk, with other exhibits

Letters to Clark from several women including his wife Peggy Brown a Miami girl and a New York girl who signed herself "Virginia" were read into the record by defense counsel

BUS FRANCHISE BRIBE UNTRUE, WALKER SAYS

Governor Allows Mayor To Cross Question Those Testifying Against Him

JIMMY ASSAILS SEABURY

Defends Actions in Fiery Oratorical Outburst at Removal Hearing

By The Associated Press

ALBANY N Y Aug 12—Resuming his role as witness in an executive hearing of ouster charges Mayor James J Walker today disclaimed any financial benefit from the granting of the franchise to the Equitable Bus Co and disputed the testimony of Park Commissioner Walter R Herrick that he had bought for the mayor 100 shares of stock later used as collateral on a loan by a public official

Shortly after the morning session adjourned Governor Roosevelt announced that he would hold up his decision on the Walker removal demand until after Aug 18

Walker in a new mood denied to Governor Roosevelt that he influenced the granting of a franchise to a bus company in which his friend State Senator John J Hastings of Brooklyn was interested

Walker Calm Today

Whereas yesterday the mayor was excited and emotional when he testified today he was calm and answered the governor's questions slowly and deliberately

The hearing adjourned at noon until 1 p m Mr Roosevelt and the attorneys agreed to recess over Saturday and resume the hearing on Monday afternoon

The opening of the afternoon session brought the mayor's denial that a European trip was financed by bus company money or that Paul Block the publisher "cut him in on a stock market profit for official favor

In Market on Credit

Under the questioning of Governor Roosevelt Walker said neither he nor Mr Block put up any money to play the market It was all on a credit basis he added

"There are two matters I want to make clear the governor said as the hearing opened

First he said both Seabury and Walker would be permitted to ask questions as the hearing proceeds

Second he said if the mayor or his counsel wishes to cross examine any witness whose testimony is included in the record of the Hofstadter committee I shall make it possible for them to do so

He denied the claim of Walker's counsel that the Hofstadter committee evidence has no standing in this hearing

After prolonged legal argument in the course of which Walker leaped to his feet interrupted his counsel and rushed into what his friends described as probably the best oratorical outburst of his career only two of the 15 counts in Seabury on which are based demands for his removal from office were covered in the hearing before Governor Franklin D Roosevelt yesterday

Quietly, with gentle persistence Governor Roosevelt questioned his one time associate in the legislature yesterday about the charges with regard to the $26,000 in bonds Walker says J A Coyle broker sent him not as a bribe to pro-

PARTIES GIRD FOR CONFLICT

Political Battle Speeds Up as Party Issues Become More Clearly Defined

TWO POINTS IN SPOTLIGHT

Economics and Prohibition Dominating Factors in Presidential Conflict

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Aug 12—Faced by the issues of prohibition and economic recovery, the presidential campaign has caught its second wind and may be expected to move at livelier step from now on in every section of the country

After a period of planning on both sides President Hoover accepts the nomination with a pronouncement for a prohibition change and a new attack on depression Governor Roosevelt will reply a week from tomorrow in a speech at Columbus O Then the voters at least will hear something tangible to argue about

Mr Hoover's prohibition proposal—to leave the question to the states but protect dry states against importation and outlaw the saloon—left no doubt of the trend of Republican strategy on that issue In the space of the 1,000 words he devoted to the subject, the Republican nominee declared four separate times that he was opposed to the saloon Unquestionably that word will recur many many times in coming weeks as Republican speakers seek to brand the Democratic party as the saloon party

The designation of course is indignantly disavowed by Democratic leaders who contend their repeal plank would mean neither a return of saloons nor any of the other ruinous results predicted by the President. The argument over that point seems certain to continue.

It is too early to judge what organized wets and drys will do about the Hoover declaration. Even submission has been opposed by some of the more militant dry agitation although they have left

PRESIDENT AHEAD OF PLATFORM IN VIEW ON DRY LAW

Calls for Prohibition Reform in Acceptance Address; "I Cannot Consent to Continuation of This Regime," He Says.

MAKES BID FOR REELECTION ON RECORD

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Aug 12 — A presidential call for prohibition reform and a promise to beat down the economic "hurricane" leads Republicans into the 1932 campaign

A tensely expectant audience of Republican leaders in vast Constitutional hall heard Mr Hoover last night in his speech of formal acceptance of renomination go far beyond party platform and demand a new order of liquor control

"I can not consent to the continuation of this regime" said the President solemnly

There was applause But the Republican hosts who had frequently interrupted Mr Hoover's challenges to Democrats on their tariff and house records seemed surprised it wasn't the same applause

Hoover as the President concluded his carefully prepared address Senator Fess of Ohio long a prohibition champion was applauding with the rest A moment later he gave his benediction to the prohibition suggestion

Mr Hoover proposed as a common ground for all reasonable people that

Each state shall be given the right to deal with the problem as it may determine but subject to absolute guarantees in the constitution of the United States to protect each state from interference and invasion by its neighbors and that in no part of the United States shall there be a return of the saloon system with its inevitable political and social corruption and its organized interference with other states"

"Repeal Means Return"

He said the Democratic plan for outright repeal meant a return of the saloon He pointed to the bootlegger and speakeasy of the present regime

I refuse to accept either of these destinies he said "Either is intolerable These are not the ways out."

Before and after the eagerly awaited prohibition declaration the President, dressed in serge coat and white trousers told the sweltering guests and a vast nation wide radio audience just what he stood for, what he had done and what he contemplated in words he desired to be "so simple and so plain that every man and woman who may hear or read my words can not misunderstand"

Only once did he mention the Republican party He willingly gave credit to Democratic members of congress who helped in enactment of the emergency reconstruction measures He attacked the Democratic house under Speaker Garner the Democratic vice presidential nominee for some of its economic proposals Obviously pointing at Governor Roosevelt he demanded Democratic specifications on tariff reform supported the protective tariff and "squarely opposed the Democratic proposal of a competitive tariff for revenue"

Mr Hoover asked reelection on his record The word "I" appeared frequently Also did the phrases "I shall persist in that" or "I shall continue to oppose that", as he [illegible] the scale of governmental problems and political issues He apparently sought to overlook no outstanding question in the 4,000 word address

Asks Verdict of People

"I rest the case of the Republican party on the intelligence and the just discernment of the American people" he concluded "Should my countrymen again place upon me the responsibilities of this high office I shall carry forward the work of reconstruction I shall hope long before another four years have passed to see the world

"ALL-BRAN LIVES UP TO REPUTATION"

Her Constipation Overcome by This Delicious Cereal

If you are troubled with constipation, read Miss Bundy's enthusiastic letter:

"I would like to congratulate the one who discovered ALL-BRAN. It really does live up to its reputation when it is said to 'relieve constipation.'

"I used to feel poor all the time—just down and out—and after reading an advertisement in a magazine about ALL-BRAN I got a box. It has evermore helped me, and it is not hard at all to eat."—Miss Mary Bundy, Bennettsville, S. C.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN brings two things needed to correct common constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it cleans the intestines of waste.

How much safer than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful. ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming. Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Gasco Captures Industrial Title by Downing Huber, 8-3

AUGENSTEIN BEATEN BY SHOVEL NINE, 3-2; C., D. & M. ALSO WINS

Champions Have Game and Half Lead; First City League Title Decided.

BY HOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star.

Mark down the Gasco club as the first team to win a 1932 softball championship in Marion.

The blue and white combine, playing for the Ohio Fuel Gas company, submerged the Huber Manufacturers under an 8-3 beating yesterday afternoon, chalking up their twelfth victory in 14 starts and putting them a game and a half ahead of the nearest rival, the Marion Steam Shovel. The Steam Shovel has one game yet to play and can pick up half a game but that's the best the second placers can do.

The Shovel did what it could do about catching the champions yesterday by taking a 3-2 decision from Augenstein A. C. team. The C., D. & M. took the Erie Mechanics into camp by a 7-4 count in the third game of the afternoon. The Eagles and Excavator-Alley did not play.

Not So Difficult

The Gasco had little difficulty in hammering out the 8-3 decision over the boys who do their laboring in the Greenwood street factory. Shorty Richards silenced the scoring guns of the Huber, although nicked for nine hits. He kept the hits fairly well scattered and was aided by the generally loose play of the Hubers. Mutt Kellogg and Benny Crabtree were the victims of the Gasco assault, both taking a turn on the mound for the Huber.

The Shovel and Augenstein put on a nip and tuck battle, the Shovel taking an early lead and holding it in the face of some determined opposition. Three Shovel tallies crossed the plate in the second inning. The Augenstein held the runners-up scoreless the rest of the time but could squeeze only two runs across themselves and so dropped below the .500 per cent. mark and into the second division.

C., D. & M. Hits Hard

The C., D. & M. took advantage of the luckless Erie Mechanics and shoved the railroaders a little deeper into the cellar regions by taking a 7-4 victory. The Electricians jumped on Vestal and Burke for eight hits and few of the binglers were wasted. Applegett's homer with three men on in the first inning got the C., D. & M. off to a flying start and after that the winners were never headed.

JAPS THREATEN TO COP TANK LAURELS

United States' Lead in Danger as Oriental Stars Display Brilliant Aquatic Form.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12 — The aquatic world was forewarned today Japan plans to lead a distinct Oriental hue to the closing episodes of the tenth Olympiad swimming championships. They had three sturdy performers in each of the three remaining races.

With the only men's finals on today's program the 100-meter backstroke, there was strong possibility Japan might overcome the five-point United States lead.

Masaji Kiyokawa, who was within nine-tenths of a second of the world's record, in the semi-finals yesterday appeared to be the class of the field. Kentaro Kawatsu and Toshio Irie also showed better form than Robert Zehr and Robert Kerber of the United States.

Japan likewise dominated the semi-final 1,500 meter free style and 200-meter breaststroke scheduled today.

Kusuo Kitamura, 14-year-old school boy, and Shozo Makino, are head and shoulders above the rest of the 1,500 meter field. Clarence (Buster) Crabtree appeared weary in the preliminary races yesterday, as did Jean Taris of France. Andrew Charlton of Australia, has not returned to form since an attack of influenza.

Yoshiyuki Tsuruta reduced his own 200-meter breaststroke Olympic record by almost three seconds yesterday in winning the first heat in 2:46.2.

Meanwhile America's mermaids dominated. Eleanor Holm won the 100 meter backstroke crown from Bonnie Mealing of Australia, in 1 minute 19.4 seconds, 1.1 seconds slower than her own Olympic record set in the semi-finals. This increased the feminine team score to 51 against 17 for Australia.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 12—Olympic boxing reached the semi finals today and five surviving Americans had their work cut for them.

Joe Lang, San Francisco bantamweight, drew a formidable opponent in Hans Ziglarski of Germany. Eddie Flynn of New Orleans, American welterweight hope, was pitted against David McCleave, Billsher. Louis Salica, Brooklyn flyweight, met Stephen Enicken of Hungary, European champion. Carmen Barth, Cleveland middleweight, will trade punches with Ernest Pierce of South Africa.

One of the heavyweight semi-finals will mark the first appearance of Fred Feary, 220 pound American, who will meet Luigi Rovati of Italy, also showing for the first time.

Barth knocked out Manuel Cruz of Mexico, last night in the second round. He was the first man to list a victory by this old fashioned method in 51 fights held up to that time.

SIMON PURE FIGHTERS BATTER EACH OTHER IN N. C. O. TOURNEY

Twenty-Six Amateur Pugs Square Off in Battle for Ring Honors.

Approximately 250 fight fans saw 26 simon pure fighters batter and pummel each other around the ring of the outdoor arena on Uncapher avenue last night as the opening guns were fired in the north central Ohio amateur boxing tournament. And how those 26 aspirants for amateur ring glory did fight. There was nothing particularly scientific about the majority of the fights. None of those polished ring actions that go to make a finished fighter. But those boys, every last one of them, packed more hefty swings into their three rounds or less of battling than the average present-day professional fighter does in a season.

The results of the complete card Thursday night at the same place with another lot of the more than 50 fighters being slated to make their initial start.

The results of the complete card follow:

Ralph Anderson of Marion, 125, won from C. Arnip of Marion, 125, by a technical knockout.

Chuck Shirk of Fostoria, 131, knocked out Johnny Yarmen of Mansfield, 129, in the second round.

Harry Mackey of Galion, 134, scored a technical knockout over George Stevens of Mansfield, 132, in the third.

Slip Eymon of Marion, 134, took a decision from Kenneth Sampsel of Mansfield, 136.

Johnny Kinsey of Marion, 136, won a decision from Carl Wiseman of Marion, 141.

Marty Blue of Marion, 113, won a decision over Joe Sansota of Marion, 113.

Johnny Zajack of Mansfield, 117, scored a technical knockout over Dick Donahue of Marion, 119, in the second.

Clyde Wilson of Marion, 118, took a decision from Paul Capalo of Marion, 114.

Johnny Merkle of Mansfield, 122 knocked out Eddie Collins of Marion, 122, in the first round.

Ralph Detwiler of Marion, 141 won a decision over Carl Gillespie of Marion, 139.

Lewis Mayer of Martel, 136, knocked out Lewis Ireland of Galion, 140, in the first round.

Joe Zimmerman of Mansfield, 147, knocked out Gene Brandon of Mansfield, 145, in the second.

Ivan Gregg of Galion, 165, knocked out Paul Hildreth of Marion 163, in the second.

Joe Caprino and Louie Sprocch, both 70 poundgers from Marion fought a four-round exhibition draw.

Carson and Gibson also teamed yesterday for the doubles tournament. They disposed of Kenneth Dustman of Flint, Mich., and Mallory Bransford of Anderson, Ind., and vanquished Jimmy Dodd and Bill Billman, both of Cincinnati.

30 ENTRIES FILED IN COURT TOURNEY

Tennis players of Marion who wish to compete in the city net tournament under the sponsorship of the Marion Steam Shovel Athletic association are reminded that entries must be filed not later than 6 p. m. today. Match play in the tourney will commence Sunday afternoon at the courts of the Shovel athletic field.

Approximately 30 entries had been received up to 10 a. m. today. It is expected that the total field will number about at least 50. Entries may be filed at the Y. M. C. A. Entrance fee of 25 cents must accompany each entry. Pairings will be announced Saturday.

Gasco vs. Columbus.

The Marion Gasco club softball team will cross bats with the Columbus Gasco team Saturday afternoon at Garfield park. The Columbus Gasco team has compiled a good record in capital city competition and a fast battle is almost certain as the Marion club is one of the strongest in the city. The game is called for 3 p. m.

A. W. Obermarker, who has been umpiring recreation ball games at Columbus, O., for 10 years, never argues with the players—he is deaf and dumb.

HE'S A WINNER

PEARCE FAVORED TO WIN OLYMPIC TITLE

By The Associated Press

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 12— Apparently only the biggest kind of an upset could deprive Henry Robert (Bobby) Pearce, Australian oarsman, of the distinction of being the first to capture the Olympic single sculling championship twice in succession.

Pearce's defense of his world title was the feature of today's program, calling for decisions in four of the seven divisions of the Olympic regatta.

The remaining finals, including the eight-oared race with California against Italy, Great Britain and Canada, will be rowed off tomorrow.

Pearce's chief opposition figured to come from Bill Miller of Philadelphia, the American champion, in a four-man race also including Guillermo Douglas of Uruguay and Leslie Southwood of Great Britain.

LANDIS SILENT ON GAMBLING PROBE

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 12 — Pittsburgh's fandom pondered Judge K. M. Landis' "investigation" today and wondered what it was all about.

The high commissioner of major league baseball returned to Chicago last night after spending the day talking with members of the Chicago Cub team and making inquiries elsewhere.

It was rumored he was gaining information on charges members of the Cub team gambled heavily on horse races while Rogers Peunsby was manager of the team.

Landis refused to confirm or deny the rumor.

Carey To Hold Post.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—Max Carey is expected to be retained manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers for 1933 today at an annual stipend of about $25,000. The Dodgers have won 15 of their last 19 games and now are only four games out of first place.

COLUMBUS GAINS ON MILLERS BY BEATING KANSAS CITY BLUES

Parmalee Fans 13, Allows 5 Hits as Red Birds Triumph.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 12—Le Roy (Bud) Parmalee, has tried twice to make a place for himself in the major leagues, and if he keeps going as he has since he rejoined the Columbus Red Birds, he probably will get at least one more try.

Parmalee went from Toledo to New York Giants two years ago, and although he had all kinds of stuff, his control didn't quite measure up to the National league standard. He went back to the Association, did well, and had another try in the best company. The second exposure failed to take and recently he rejoined the Red Birds.

Last night he won his seventh straight victory, holding Kansas City to only five hits to score an 8 to 0 shutout. Not only did he quell the Blue batsmen, but participated in the attack to the extent of a home run and a double. His hits drove in three runs. His fast ball worked so well that 13 Kansas City batsmen fanned.

The victory enabled the Birds to clip a full game from Minneapolis' lead, the Millers taking a 9 to 1 thumping from Louisville, in another night contest. Minneapolis' margin over the Red Birds today was just one game.

Indianapolis stuck right behind Columbus, by trouncing St. Paul 7 to 2, in the third night game.

Toledo came to life in the last two innings of the only day game to make it three out of four over Milwaukee, 2 to 1.

THREE RURAL GAMES SCHEDULED SATURDAY

At Least One County Team To Be Eliminated from Titular Race.

One and possibly two contenders for the Marion county softball championship will be eliminated Saturday afternoon in the trio of games billed in the rural Little World series at the Steam Shovel athletic field. Either the Marion county children's home or Caledonia are certain to lose out. Both have suffered one defeat. It takes but two to eliminate a team and those two cross bats Saturday. Waldo, already the loser in one conflict, will have to defeat Pleasant or also join the loser of the Caledonia-Children's home game.

Kirkpatrick and Green Camp, both winners in the first round of games last Saturday, will put on the feature game of the schedule Saturday when they clash on the No. 1 diamond. Waldo and Pleasant will play on diamond No. 2 and Children's home will play Caledonia on diamond No. 3.

All games are slated for 3:15 p. m.

CELINA, CAREY TO CROSS BATS SUNDAY

Celina will return to Carey Sunday afternoon for a return engagement with Don Donelson's Semi-pros. Celina won the first game between the two teams, 8-6 and Carey is out to avenge this setback.

Celina has a hard-hitting lineup that will force some fast playing on the part of Carey if the latter hopes to chalk up a victory. The Semi-Pros will be defending a record of not having been beaten twice in the same season by the same team.

Morral, Radnor To Play.

The Morral and Radnor baseball teams will cross bats Sunday afternoon at Morral in the play-off of a postponed contest in the Tri-county league. The tilt is called for 2:30 p. m. Both of the teams are leaders in the league race and a tight game is expected Sunday.

GRIMM LEADS BRUINS INTO FIRST PLACE AS PITTSBURGH LOSES

Bucs Trail Cubs by Half Game; Ferrell Wins 19th for Tribe.

By The Associated Press

Nine days after Charley Grimm took over the managerial reins the Chicago Cubs have regained first place in the National league pennant race.

Whether or not attributable to Grimm's master-minding, the fact remains that the Cubs, under his handling, have won six of their last eight games, all on the road.

Their 3-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday gave them a half-game margin over the Pirates for first place and reinstated them in the pace-setting position for the first time since June 26th when the Corsairs first took command.

The only other National league game of the day saw the Phillies end a six-game losing streak at the expense of the Boston Braves, 7-5.

Action in the American league also was limited to two games. Wes Ferrell won his 19th victory of the season as Cleveland beat Detroit, 3-0. Ferrell allowed only seven hits.

The St. Louis Browns walloped Ted Lyons for five runs in the fifth inning and beat the Chicago White Sox, 6-5.

GRAIN PRICES TURN LOWER

Chicago Values Slip Downward in Response to Liverpool Drop.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO Aug 12—Grain prices went downward here early today, following setbacks in wheat quotations at Liverpool Unpromising prospects for export business was a bearish factor and in some quarters disappointment was expressed concerning President Hoover's attitude toward agricultural matters Opening ¼@¾ lower, Chicago wheat futures continued to drop

Corn started unchanged to ¼ off and subsequently declined ¾ all around.

Wheat prices fell about two cents a bushel before downturns were checked Increased commission house selling at the outset and afterward disclosed that the market was without aggressive buying support Consequent declines forced stop loss orders into execution, and the market showed but little power to rally

Liverpool reported only meager demand for actual wheat, and various Chicago trade authorities heretofore friendly to the buying side suggested awaiting the appearance of export takings before becoming pronounced speculative purchasers It was asserted that there was an excellent background for bullish rallies but that the one essential feature was export demand A statement from one large concern said that were there no tariff the United States was at present nearer to an import than an export basis Corn and oats prices gave way with wheat

Provisions were steadied by hog market upturns

1,500 MUST REGISTER TO VOTE NEXT FALL

Election Board Official Urges Early Registration; Deadline Oct. 18.

An appeal for approximately 1,500 Marion residents who must register or transfer their registration to become eligible as voters to go to at once was made today at the headquarters of the county board of elections.

After such registrations and transfers will be accepted until Oct. 18 the advisability of registering at the earliest opportunity for the benefit of both prospective voters and election board officials was pointed out by C G Ritzler deputy clerk of the board

The last few days for registrations always finds a line waiting for service in the election board rooms, inconveniencing the public and swamping election officials with work Ritzler said

Persons who will be 21 years of age on Nov 8 or before and who previously have not registered must do so There whose names have been changed by marriage or divorce also must register Persons who have changed their residence must transfer their registration to the proper precinct to be eligible to vote Ritzler said

Only residents of the city are required to be registered

Registrations and transfers are being received at the rate of five and six a day Ritzler said

LEGION PROTESTS USE OF ARMY ON B. E. F.

Letter Sent to President Hoover by Members of Local Post.

A letter protesting the use of the United States army in the evacuation of the bonus army from Washington was ordered sent to President Hoover by Bird McGinnis post of the American Legion last night

The text of the letter forwarded to the President today over the signature of L M Eikenberry, adjutant, follows

"At the regular meeting of Bird-McGinnis Post, the American Legion, held in the Legion Dugout on Tuesday evening, Aug 9 a motion was carried without dissenting voice, that a letter be addressed to you as President of the United States, protesting the use of the United States Army in evacuating the so-called 'Bonus Army' from their camps in Washington, D. C., on the night of July 28, 1932.

"We believe the reasons given for this display of force (that they were led by men of violence by Communists) to be without foundation. Through weeks of perfect behavior and splendid discipline they proved their worth as the re Communism if organized.

"We further believe that any grade as this by our Government do more to aid the cause of Communism than all of the Communistic Propaganda issued since the war. We believe that the use of the army on these veterans was a disgrace to the name of Patriotism.

"It is the sentiment of every member of this post that the use of the army in dispersing these veterans was unwarranted and uncalled for, and that the order to use the army was issued by a man who is not in sympathy with the aims of the American Legion."

POLITICAL CAMPAIGN GATHERS MOMENTUM

dated they would concentrate their energies on electing acceptable members of congress rather than a president As Mr Roosevelt favors repeal drys who insist on having a candidate committed to the present regime would appear to have no place to go except into the prohibition party

Whatever he may say about prohibition at Columbus the Democratic nominee is expected to devote much of his speech to dissent from Mr Hoover's economic views Governor Roosevelt has some progressive to make about the depression and some of his advisers believe he is about ready to give them to the public

Presumably the next week will see much political discussion also of the case of James J Walker Tammany mayor of New York whose removal is under consideration Because of the Tammany tie in the governor's decision is sure to stir up a nationwide storm the effects of which cannot be foretold

All the recent victory predictions from both parties are likely to be qualified for some time to come by a realization that the election still is far away Between now and mid September the issues probably will be fairly well defined but only then will the really interesting campaigning begin

not open by some means he said

One of the most interesting jobs he ever did in his self mation was the opening of a safe in a Marion filling station several years ag Burglars had knocked the dial off the safe and had charged the safe with nitroglycerin Before they could shoot the charge they were frightened away

Pointed Pupil Also

Afraid to drive the dial stem in to the safe for fear of discharging the nitro by the shock of the blows Mr Eymon was obliged to resort to other methods He soaked the safe with alcohol and gasoline to neutralize the explosive and cut a screwdriver groove in the dial stem He placed the bit of a screwdriver in this groove and a rigid the combination by turning the screwdriver handle

One of the most important and one of the most difficult assignments ever given Mr Eymon was to open a large cash box inside a bank vault at Shreve O 30 years ago The box lock was regulated by a timing device run by three clocks for years the bank officials had not operated the combination on the money box but instead had regulated the timing device so the box automatically would unlock at a fixed time

Opened Bank Vault

A bank director shut the box one night without adjusting the timing device and the box was locked in such a manner that it was necessary to run the combination to open it No one knew the combination and as a result the bank was forced to borrow money from Cleveland to carry on its business The box was locked a week and several efforts to open it failed before Mr Eymon was called on the job

He recognized an unusual problem in this lock before he attempted to open it The combination had not been run for years and the interior of the lock was gummy and dusty The dirt obscured the feel of the mechanism

At intervals of an hour Mr Eymon forced gasoline into the lock to loosen its mechanism When the gasoline had penetrated to all parts of the lock he began turning the dial and a few minutes later had opened the door The money box was filled with bills of large denominations and contained thousands of dollars

Eight years ago Mr Eymon received a call at five minutes of 8 a m An excited bank cashier was on the line The bank's vault would not respond to the combination and the cashier feared a run on the bank if he could not have the cash ready when the bank opened

Mr Eymon went to the bank and not only opened the bank's vault but repaired the lock He was sworn to secrecy on his job and to this day the president of the institution does not know about it

Retired Factory Man

A factory representative of a safe company installed a safe in a local factory several years ago but couldn't open the safe after it had been set up He called Mr Eymon who worked out the combination and made a minor repair

Mr Eymon once was called to Lima to try a lawsuit When he arrived the trial had been postponed and he was obliged to wait three hours on a train He made inquiry about "unlockable" safes and before he left that city he had opened three safes and had made expenses of the trip

One man who had to have the printed combination before him to open his safe locked the combination inside and called on Mr Eymon to open it Children often give dials an extra turn that makes it impossible for them to open their safes

Children have made lots of jobs for me he said

He has opened hundreds of locks in Marion and others in Lima Kenton Ada Upper Sandusky Crestline Galion Mt Gilead Cardington Delaware Mansfield Shreve Richwood Marysville Circleville Pittsburgh and Columbus

Ability Not Limited

His ability as a mechanic is not limited to the opening and repair of safes and locks He has an extensive clientele of sportsmen who bring favorite guns to him for repair or for the installation of an ivory sight or a piece of inlay Only a week ago he lightened and conditioned a $340 shotgun

He has adjusted a number of police department revolvers to suit the trigger pull to the owner and has placed ivory sights on the guns of a number of sportsmen Some of his work on guns requires closest precision and care

Trapshooting became a favorite pastime with Mr Eymon 25 years ago when he was associated with Frank D Aikire of Williamsport Pickaway county while Mr Eymon was teaching school there Aikire who died a few years ago was state champion at that time Gun companies ammunition companies and other shooting equipment companies gave him targets birds shells and guns and Aikire shared these with Mr Eymon They shot together regularly for years

Mr Eymon placed first in his class at a state trapshoot meeting in Zanesville last June He hopes to be able to attend the Grand American handicap shoot of the American Trapshooters Association of the United States at Vandalia Aug 22 to 27

Mr Eymon was born and reared at Circleville His boyhood ambition was to do mechanical work but this was discouraged by his father Mr Eymon after finishing his common school education taught school eight years studied law and was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1903 He came to Marion to practice He has been retained as local counsel for the Pennsylvania railroad since that time and for 25 years has represented the humane society

He and Mrs Eymon have two daughters Katherine and Margery Their son Paul died in France while a mechanic in the 112th Signal Battalion of the 37th division prosperous and at peace and every American home again in the sunshine of genuine prosperity I shall seek to maintain untarnished and unweakened those fundamental traditions and principles upon which our nation was founded and upon which it has grown I shall invite and welcome the help of every man and woman in the preservation of the United States for the happiness of its people This is my pledge to the nation and to the Almighty God"

The strand of Republican days a generation ago was woven into the picture by the presence of Mrs Theodore Roosevelt widow of the former president

Mrs Roosevelt received ovations as she entered on the arm of Secretary Stimson and again as she left Mrs Hoover slowly waving a fan and intently following every word of her husband sat nearby

Everett Sanders secretary to Calvin Coolidge and now chairman of the national committee presided Representative Snell of New York chairman of the notification committee formally told Mr Hoover of his nomination

Blames Speculation

Mr Hoover hammered away on the economic emergency and steps past and contemplated to meet it He blamed over optimism and speculation in his country as the first cause of trouble and the worldwide economic collapse resulting from war evils as the subsequent and more devastating cause Of his efforts to meet the situation he said

These programs unparalleled in the history of depressions in any country and in any time to care for distress to provide employment to aid agriculture to maintain the financial stability of the country to safeguard the savings of the people to protect their homes are not in the past tense—they are in action I shall propose such other measures public and private as may be necessary from time to time to meet the changing situations and to further speed economic recovery That recovery may be slow but we will succeed

And come what may I shall maintain through all these measures the sanctity of the great principles under which the republic over a period of 150 years has grown to be the greatest nation on earth

On foreign affairs the President eyed favorably a general world economic conference even along lines suggested by Senator Borah of Idaho but he emphatically warned against war debt cancellation He did open the door for a trade on particular annual payments in the interests of American commerce

He emphasized anew the administration determination to join in world consultative pacts against recognition of territory gained by aggression in violation of peace treaties

Asks Tax Reduction

His direct promise to the farmer was made for tax reduction He saw as the most practicable relief to the farmer today aside from the general economic recovery something to alleviate the unfair burdens of taxation which the current readjustment in values has brought about

He defended the farm board and its price stabilization activities

"The original purpose of the farm board was to strengthen the efforts of the farmer to establish his own farmer owned farmer controlled marketing agencies" he said It has partially succeeded in his purpose even in these times of adversity

The price stabilization loans he said saved many farmers in actual dollars and saved hundreds of the banks in farming communities

Gun Fire Dynamite Blasts Mark Violence in Athens Territory.

Lee Schoch or an employe of the Manhattan mine was burned Two other unoccupied residences adjoining also were destroyed The feed store of C W Brown whose son is a miner at the Manhattan mine was entered during the night and bags of feed slashed open and the contents scattered about the floor

Dairy Cross Burns

A second dynamite explosion was reported at Nelsonville a few miles from Chauncey It was set off on a hillside and a few minutes after the echo of the last blast died away a fiery cross blazed from the hill While it was not known who was responsible for the explosion the burning of the cross was taken as a warning from a vigilance committee formed recently

Since the committee announced notice that it would take matters in its own hands unless law and order were restored there have been no less than a dozen acts of violence While members of the committee are unknown to the general public it is believed they are miners Investigations of the disorders will soon present their evidence to county and state officials

Shortly before the sun came up this morning a member of the National guard on duty at a county bridge over the Hocking river leading to the Jick Run mine was fired on by a number of men in an automobile He was not injured and his assailants escaped before he could return their fire definite programs of readjustment and co-ordination of national state and local taxation which will relieve real property especially the farms from unfair burdens"

Roosevelt—The practical way to help the farmer is by an arrangement that will "do something toward the reduction of the surpluses of staple commodities Farm mortgages reach nearly 10 billions of dollars "Our immediate concern should be to reduce the interest burden on these mortgages

Taxation

Hoover—The first necessity of the nation "is to reduce expenditures by government state national and local It is the relief of taxes from the backs of men which liberates their powers

Roosevelt—For three long years I have been going up and down this country preaching that government—federal and state and local—costs too much I shall not stop that preaching

Power

Hoover—I have repeatedly recommended the federal regulation of interstate power I shall persist in that I have opposed the federal government undertaking the operation of the power business. I shall continue that opposition

Roosevelt — (promised to say more later and endorsed the party plank which advocates "regulation to the full extent of holding companies which sell securities in interstate commerce rates of utilities companies operating across state lines")

Foreign Relations

Hoover—I have projected a new doctrine into international affairs the doctrine that we do not and never will recognize title to possession of territory gained in violation of peace pacts * * * This world needs peace I shall continue * * * to explore every possible path that leads toward a world in which right triumphs over force * * *

Roosevelt—By our actions of the past we have invited and received the retaliation of other nations (Quoted and approved the Democratic plank advocating A firm foreign policy including peace with all the world and the settlement of international disputes by arbitration no interference in the internal affairs of other nations * * *)

The statements here reproduced were made by President Hoover in his acceptance speech last night and by Franklin D Roosevelt in his acceptance speech to the Democratic national convention and in a later radio address

Cases Treated at Clinic of Hospital on Increase

Sponsoring Organizations May Be Forced To Discontinue Work as Finances Run Low Plans for Benefit Announced.

An increase in the number of cases given treatment at the Marion city clinic of from 771 in 1929 to 2199 in 1931 32 is being pointed out by organizations sponsoring the clinic to show the great need of such an institution in their campaign for funds to continue its operation

The failure of Marion residents to subscribe the goal of the Community Fund they say will result in a suspension of the clinic unless some financial aid is obtained from some other source A benefit wrestling show to be given at the Marion Steam Shovel arena Monday night by Harley Markert and Paul Lewis to help the cause has been announced by members of the organization

Mrs John McNamara a representative of the Federation of Women's clubs and active in the clinic service said the clinic located in the basement of the City hospital is the result of a movement started in May 1927 to provide free medical examination and treatment to families finding it impossible to pay for such service At that time Mrs McNamara said seven members of the Academy of Medicine and the Dental society volunteered their services and with money furnished by the Federation of Women's clubs City Kings Daughters Union and the Parent Teachers council the clinic was established With the advent of the Community fund the clinic became a participating agency functioning under a committee consisting of a representative from each of the groups

The clinic service includes five departments medical and surgical eye ear nose and throat dental dermatological and baby and prenatal The dispensary days are Monday Tuesday Wednesday and Friday mornings Mrs Florence Coffman is in charge as secretary assisted by the Red Cross city and county nursing staff physicians and dentists

A recent addition to the clinic is the baby and prenatal department which is financed by the Woman's board of the City hospital

The activities of the clinic during 1931 32 included Mrs McNamara said 981 medical visits 14 major operations 72 minor operations including 60 operations for tonsils 358 dental cases the giving of 77 anaesthetics the furnishing of 46 pairs of glasses and 1uetic treatment for 702 patients

JAPAN COMMENTS ON ADDRESS OF HOOVER

Oriental Heads See No Connection with Their Position in Manchuria.

By The Associated Press

TOKYO Aug 12—The Japanese government fails to see how President Hoover's new doctrine of refusal to recognize possession of territory gained by force applies to Japan's position in Manchuria a foreign office spokesman said today

The reference occurred in the President's speech of acceptance last night and in government circles here it was accepted as was Secretary Stimson's speech earlier in the week as a reference to the Manchurian case

Japan never will seek title to possession of territory in Manchuria—to use the President's phrase—not to the end of time said the spokesman

"Japan has absolutely no intention of annexation Many Japanese are even doubting the wisdom of annexation of Korea which has been a liability lowering the general economic levels of the empire

"The President's doctrine as he expressed it seems to us wholesome What we object to is having the anti war pact constantly poked under our noses with charges that we are violating it"

The spokesman said Mr Hoover's speech like Mr Stimson's sought to marshal the administration's achievements in foreign policy as arguments for reelection

Governor Allows Mayor To Cross-Question Those Testifying Against Him.

cute favorable action on taxicab control but as his profit in a pool and about $1 000 worth of bonds of the Reliance Bronze and Steel corporation which the mayor said he gave to his wife and had forgotten when the company obtained a $43 000 contract to manufacture traffic light standards for Fifth Avenue

Hearing Is Dramatic

There was a dramatic moment yesterday when Governor Roosevelt asked Mayor Walker to raise his right hand and administered to him the oath before starting to question him Walker and his chief counsel John J Curtin hotly objected to his taking the oath

Mr Mayor will you please raise your right hand?

There was a tense moment earlier when Walker jumped up and began to talk in an undertone to Curtin during a legal argument over whether he was to be allowed to question the witnesses

Walker then launched into a fiery oration

Once the governor who had been trying to keep the discussion away from personalities interrupted him as Walker excitedly declared that the committee of 1 000 basing its charges on Seabury's conclusions "manifestly or evidently did not care whether there was any truth in the conclusions

Governor Asked To Defend Hearing

By The Associated Press

ALBANY N Y Aug 12—An order requiring Governor Roosevelt to show cause why he should not be restrained from passing on the right of Mayor James J Walker to continue in office was issued today by Supreme Court Justice Harold J Hineman

The order was issued at the request of Sidney Levine attorney for George Connelly Bronx "home rule" advocate It is returnable in Albany Aug 19 before Supreme Court Justice Ellis J Staley for argument in the appellate division

Levine yesterday made an unsuccessful attempt to stop the Walker hearing by court order He is a former secretary to Cyrus Miller former borough president of the Bronx

ROOSEVELT TO GET ONE SOCIAL EVENT

Nominee Requests "Soft Pedal" for Ohio Visit; Luncheon Planned.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O. Aug 12—Governor Franklin D Roosevelt wants to keep a soft pedal on the social side of his visit when he comes here next week to open his campaign for the presidency

That's what leaders explained today. "everything of a social nature" will be wrapped in one event—a luncheon for the nominee and his wife at which W A Julian Democratic national committeeman will be host.

And even the luncheon Walter F Beer arrangements committee chairman said will have a "business angle"

At the luncheon Governor Roosevelt will meet the campaign captains from the various districts of the state and will hear their reports on the situation in their respective regions.

The luncheon will be Saturday Aug 20 second day of the state Democratic platform convention and rally but leaders hadn't decided today where the affair would be

Beer announced that all speeches save Governor's will be brief Former Gov James M Cox will be among the speakers

The order secured today does not have the effect of stopping the present proceedings but merely of directing the governor to show cause why he should not hold up his decision until Levine has made another attempt to get a writ of prohibition.

Mr Roosevelt yesterday declined to accept service of notice of formal attempt by Levine to get his writ of prohibition. At the time it was indicated the governor would of course accept notice if an order was received from some supreme court justice

THIS WRITING FOLLOWS a week's return trip to the writer's alfalfa ranch at Hoiser on the Mojave Desert 121 miles to the east and 2000 feet up in the air. Farmers may be comfortable by news that the finest quality of baled alfalfa hay with blue flowers still in the hay, and not a seed in a carload, sells f.o.b. Hodge for $6 per ton. Under irrigation 100000 pounds of water are required to grow a ton of alfalfa and much electricity to pump the water so that alfalfa growing just now is profitable for everybody but the grower.

General conditions and the fact that Los Angeles dairymen have been having a milk war cutting the price to three cents a quart have not improved the farmers lot.

You can buy good hay a little coarser in the Imperial Valley for $5 a ton. Trucks and trailers that haul the hay run day and night, two men on each truck, one sleeps while the other drives. Path work loading and unloading. One man remarked cheerfully that he had not had his shoes off in 10 days. Men work for a living in these times, many would be glad to work for their board here as in many other states. You can hire servant girls in Los Angeles for $5 a month and board. This is not a place to come looking for a job at high wages.

Coming we passed the biggest persimmon factory in the world just east of Ogden in Utah. You learn that ordinary workers formerly paid 60 and 70 cents an hour now get 18 cents an hour, $1.80 for a ten hour day. Skilled mechanics get 22 cents an hour.

Don't come here looking for work but if you have a small income and want to live economically this is the place.

On the way in Hodge you see two large cantaloupes for five cents. You buy two pounds of string beans for five cents, peaches and plums for one and two cents a pound, tomatoes five cents a dozen, oranges eight dozen for twenty five cents. One lady who lives at Hodge said "You can fill the back of your car with vegetables and fruits of all kinds for eighty cents. It don't pay to plant a garden."

Wells at first that depend on pobol to furnish them are fortunate. On the five cent road east of Victorville we disturb a buzzard peacefully eating the remains of a rabbit crushed by an automobile. The bird flies up as we pass then drops and begins his meal. The automobile is a terrible thing. It kills fast rate the rabbits they don't know and the automobile kills them. Lights of big cities have something of the same effect on young men but operate more slowly.

A year later a general store was opened by Burdick and Calloway who purchased their first stock of merchandise from L H Hastings of Marysville Records of the store s transactions show that eggs were selling for three cents a doz en in 1833

Rev John Carney a Baptist was the first minister in the settlement and Dr John P Brookins one of the founders was its first phy sicians or practitioner as doctors were known in those days

One of the Brookins men served as the first postmaster and re tained the position until 1847

The village of Richwood was in corporated on March 6 1855 after 61 citizens drew up a petition ask ing that their settlement be recog nized as a village

In that same year Charles W Rosette was elected mayor and Richwood began to grow A fire swept Richwood in 1870 and in re sponse to the emergency call sent out the Marion fire departmen sent down a hand engine to battle the flames

Richwood citizens became mil tary minded in 1872 and on July 17 47 of the men of the village or ganized Company G 14th Regi ment Ohio National Guard known as the Gibson Guards

Richwood s first school house was a log building erected in 1835 on Ridgeway street In 1876 plans were drawn for a larger and more pretentious building for the village and in that same year the present grade school building was erected.

The need for a newspaper was felt in the '70s when Richwood was beginning to expand and things were beginning to happen and in 1872 the late J H Vaughan became editor of the Richwood Gazette

The only bank now operating in Richwood is the Bank of Richwood which was organized in 1867 The first bank was organized in 1866

Senator Caraway.

The United States recognizes its first formally elected woman senator with all the respect befitting her office and the occasion. Perhaps it is Mrs. Caraway's good fortune that the conditions under which she has attained her position are not of a kind that will make of her a legislative heroine.

She was given an honorary appointment by a chivalrous governor. It was not anticipated that she would stand for election but Arkansas had forgotten that it is risky to anticipate the actions of a woman even in politics. She stood and won. Encouraged by success she has the nomination, election will follow barring some unforseen turn of events.

Six male rivals badly spent are bunched in the rear of the field victims of a nominating system which caused them to spend their strength on each other instead of their common rival. None of them was conceded a chance to win. While they were cunning each other out Senator Caraway with the advantage of a familiar name and a unique position was piling up a tremendous lead.

All who believe that important legislative opportunities await the nation's first woman senator will be wishing her luck as she returns to Washington for the full term. Not a publicity getter not a flashy personality nor an orator she has a chance that many ambitious women have tried to get. May she utilize it in such a way that history will record Hattie W. Caraway's record as a credit to the activities of women in politics.

News from Finland.

Americans who have been watching Finland's experiment with the liquor problem are interested to know that legalizing manufacture and sale has not stopped bootlegging. It is a fact that does no good for claims that prohibition is solely responsible for the practice.

By claiming that outright repeal of the Eighteenth amendment or substitution of an amendment providing for states rights and some system of government sale would stop bootlegging they are covering a dangerous amount of territory. Bootlegging is as old as restriction.

It will appear wherever and whenever limits are placed on the manufacture and sale of a product that people want liquor merely happens to be an outstanding example. It was common in the United States long before any one dreamed of national prohibition and it will be common long after the change for which the people are clamoring has been made.

If sale of liquor is confined within certain hours there will be bootleggers to provide it outside those hours. If distribution becomes a government monopoly there will be bootleggers trying to break the monopoly. If price is made a barrier to general sale there will be bootleggers to evade any tax that may be placed on liquor also.

Bootlegging isn't peculiar to the United States or to the liquor problem. It is the manifestation of a common human trait which causes men to beat the law for the sake of private gain. It can not therefore be eliminated, although it can be limited in its opportunities. To put the bootlegger back in his place is the purpose of an evident majority of the American people.

The Melting Pot Cools.

To those who cling to the fear of a former generation that foreigners are dragging the nation to ruin by sheer weight of numbers the department of commerce issues a valuable analysis of the latest census returns. It shows that the number of foreign born inhabitants remained practically constant during the decade from 1920 to 1930.

Two factors are chiefly responsible. Immigration restriction held down new material dumped into the melting pot to an increase of .8 per cent during the decade. Deaths among the older members of the foreign born group did the rest. Obviously, the foreign born population can not increase without immigration, the second generation is listed as native.

The day of the furiously bubbling melting pot in the wealthiest nation of the world is gone forever. Its refined product will be indistinguishable from the "old settlers" in another generation. Native language settlements will disappear as children of foreign parentage align themselves with patterns of American civilization. Foreign groups forged by common uncertainty in a new country will be dispersed.

Inter-marriage and social mingling will distribute racial strains and ways throughout the entire population. There are even those who entertain the improbable hope that racial color lines will be broken down eventually, though there is nothing in experience to support their belief. A more believable theory is that rules of increase will so operate as to crowd out groups which can not be assimilated a process only to be spoken of in terms of centuries.

In the national population mixture there ingredients are found 105,710,000 whites 11,891,000 Negroes 1,422 Mexicans; 332,398 Indians; 76,000 Chinese; 138,000 Japanese, and 45,000 Filipinos.

James Francis Burke

The Republican party will take the good advice of its distinguished supporter James Francis Burke. No independent did he make himself by lifetime devotion to the party cause that his very name has the sound of nonsense.

Master showman he had been called. It was his official duty as well as his unofficial pleasure to speculate critically on possibilities of political impression. Like a good social secretary he made it part of his job to prevent Republicans from doing the wrong thing.

As congressman as counsel as politician as committeeman as organizer, as delegate and as a party leader who held position by virtue of his firm convictions he served the United States well. It must have been hard for a man with so vital an interest in political affairs to die at a time when he knew his presence was needed so urgently.

Instrument or Ideal?

Secretary of State Stimson is assured of an alien dye audience in Japan whenever he makes a speech. The Japanese foreign office is always eager to try on the various diplomatic shoes he mentions and it is significant that its spokesmen do not try to conceal the fact that a good many of them pinch the restless and sensitive Japanese foot.

Monday night Mr. Stimson talked about the Kellogg Briand pact for the renunciation of war. Early Tuesday morning it was published widely that Japan's feelings had been hurt and that representations might be made to the United States. There were violent objections to what seemed to be Secretary Stimson's belief that Japan was and still is the aggressor in Manchuria.

It is Article II of the pact which bears upon the situation. It says: The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be which may arise among them shall never be sought except by pacific means. One of the high contracting parties is His Majesty the Emperor of Japan.

The Manchurian phase of the Sino-Japanese incident afforded the first major test of the Kellogg Briand pact and of American policy concerning it. It is of that test that Secretary Stimson spoke, praising the outcome as a demonstration of the efficacy of mobilizing public opinion against an outbreak of international hostility. In League of Nations circles the Stimson speech was welcomed as a sign that the United States through the pact apparently intends to participate directly in world problems although not holding membership in the league.

Regardless of representations that Japan may make regarding what a spokesman for this nation's state department has said about its part in the Manchurian episode the speech is important to Americans for the indication of foreign policy that it gives. The United States has chosen to take Article II of the Kellogg Briand pact literally. It will not recognize treaties arrived at by other than pacific means. Japan has made such a treaty and it is held answerable for it by a nation whose prestige it can not ignore.

Comment of the Press

INSURANCE AGAINST UNEMPLOYMENT

It is beginning to appear that unemployment insurance in some form is an inevitable step in the stabilizing of business. The agitation for such insurance is not overwhelming but a deep conviction is growing among men and women who have nothing to gain by it that only as consumer purchasing power is stabilized by unemployment insurance can we hope to steady the ups and downs of business activity.

The questions involved in working out a scheme of unemployment insurance are many. We must choose between federal and state management. We must determine in what proportion workers employers and the public are to contribute to the costs of such a system. And there are infinite details as to eligibility for the benefits of such insurance.

Governor White took a wise step last winter in choosing a commission to gather data as to the need for unemployment insurance. That commission found striking evidence of support for the adoption of a comprehensive program. Now it is desirable to go a bit further and work out on the basis of foreign countries experiences several alternative schemes for handling the question.

Publicly controlled insurance against unemployment is intrinsically undesirable. But if we are to avoid the periodic slumps of business and the consequent hardship to countless individuals there must be an aggressive effort to maintain the purchasing power of consumers.

Wisdom on the part of industrialists as well as the public generally calls for serious thought in this direction. Only by taking the initiative can thoughtful citizens and interested groups prevent a hasty and ill-advised insurance plan connected by the Legislature at some future time under the spur of immediate agitation.

It is better to acknowledge and prepare for the problems of the future and work out a deliberate solution in advance than wait for unreflecting political expediency to enforce a costly and unworkable scheme on short notice and under the stress of popular agitation.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

APPROVAL OF MR. HOOVER.

The attitude of men connected directly or indirectly with the banking business is indicated by the remarks of James S. Love of Mississippi the president of the National Association of State Bank Supervisors at its convention in Philadelphia.

Mr. Love is a Democrat but he spoke as a man aware of the necessities of the banks when he commended President Hoover for his foresight in dealing with the financial crisis and especially for his work in connection with the formation of the National Credit Corporation and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. It is only the politicians seeking political advantage who have sought to belittle what the President has done for the business of the country.

What is at stake in the protection of the banks is indicated by figures quoted by J. S. Sims of New Orleans the secretary treasurer of the association. Mr. Sims reminded the delegates that at the end of last year the deposits in the State banks amounted to $30,000,000,000 and in the national banks to $19,000,000,000 a total of more than $50,000,000,000, the security of which depends on the soundness of the banks.

Not all of these deposits are at the present time. The banks are looking for a safe investment for a large part of it. However, a recent investment was offered in which $2,000,000 was offered to be spent in three years on a proposal to borrow $325,000,000 at 5% and when $1,000,000,000 was offered for a bond issue of 5% interest at 2% per cent.

Daily Guide to Health

BY DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

New Vaccine May Check Ravages of Typhus Fever.

The United States Public Health Service announces the discovery of a new vaccine to combat typhus fever. This vaccine has been successfully used on experimental animals and it is believed that the effect will be equally beneficial when given to human beings.

Typhus fever has been known to mankind for many centuries. With in the last few centuries it has been responsible for many of the so-called plagues that have swept the globe periodically destroying thousands of persons. It was prevalent during and shortly after the World War and is more common in Europe than in this country. The American form is not nearly so severe as the European typhus fever.

Typhus must not be confused with typhoid fever for the diseases are different. Typhus fever is an infection caused by a germ carried by lice and usually occurs where large numbers of persons are gathered together under unsanitary conditions. The disease is easily transmitted from one individual to another. In typhus cases there is high fever but the disease differs from typhoid fever in that certain serious complications of typhoid rarely occur in typhus.

Headache prostration sudden chill fever and a skin rash are some of the symptoms of typhus. The fever on the second day may reach 30° degrees. A reddish rash appears usually between the third and fifth days. The typhus rash at first quite red turns to a purplish brown and spreads all over the body except the face. In typhoid fever the rash consists of many small reddened spots distributed over the abdomen and chest.

Though the form of typhus fever found in this country is not serious it requires painstaking care and attention for when neglected there is always danger of complication in the form of broncho pneumonia. Only easily digested food should be given and the drinking of water should be encouraged.

The body should be kept clean by daily baths. Fresh clothing and bed linen are essential. Contaminated linens should be carefully handled and boiled before using again. Personal cleanliness is necessary for the cure as well as the prevention of this disease.

Typhoid fever also associated with filth and unhygienic conditions is caused by the typhoid germ which may reach the body through contaminated water milk or food. Fortunately modern medical science has perfected a vaccine which prevents the occurrence of this disease.

At one time typhoid fever was prevalent throughout the world but due to improvements in sanitation and universal use of the typhoid vaccine the disease is now rarely encountered. It is hoped that the vaccine discovered for the prevention of typhus fever will be equally successful in eliminating that disease.

THE SHERMAN BROTHERS

General Sherman always inclined to take a stand against the politicians on any public matter and the fact caused his more cautious brother Senator Sherman much uneasiness. When President Andrew Johnson and congress split, or appeared on the verge of splitting it must have occurred to the senator that here was a good chance for the governor to get in wrong so he addressed him a letter of caution dated at Washington July 8, 1866 thus:

Dear Brother. It is now wise for you to avoid an expression of public opinion—the President is being Tylerized. He was elected by the Union party for his openly expressed radical sentiment and now he seeks to read to pieces this party. There is a sentiment among the people that this is dishonor. It looks so to me. What Johnson is is from and of the Union party. He now deserts it and destroys it. He may varnish it up but after all he must admit that he disappoints the reasonable expectations of those who entrusted him with power. Under these circumstances you Grant and Thomas ought to be clear of political complications. As for myself I intend to stick to finance but wherever I can I will moderate the actions of the Union part and favor conciliation and restoration.

Affectionately yours
John Sherman.

From this it is evident the senator thought the break between the President and congress might result in forming the Civil War into flames then.

New York Day by Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Aug. 12. Thoughts while strolling 1932 definition of a gentleman—a man who gives his seat on a bar stool to a lady. They say Willie and Eugene Howard were never in a night club. Kate Crosea's bead bright eyes. What became of Frederic and Fanny Hatton?

Lawrence Tibbett somehow suggests a stooge to me. Mrs. H. L. Mencken is a ringer for Katherine Brush. The next step in The Great American Gyp for investors is the receivership racket. They'll take what is left. Ralph Barton's brother Homer—an actor. Sophisticated magazines flounder.

What happened to all those crooked magazinates. Al Smith and Will Rogers have noses alike. One of my favorite people—Earl Benham. Theatres for rent for a song. But no one even feels like singing it. One word description of Ann Pennington—Japanese. Ray Long and Lionel Barrymore talk alike.

Major Edward Bowes a San Francisco Cal. boy who made good in the city. Whenever an auto horn down on me the horn takes on the shimmer of wheat. Overheard. What I need is a huge jolt of terribly rude liquor. Well-dressed actors straining against oblivion.

Wish some newspaper would start an "Agony Column." Like that in the London Times. Filled with such personalities as Maggie—I'm shipping from Liverpool. I'll be a better boy when I come back. Keep away from the iof"—Tim. Nobody can deliver a toast so gracefully as Dudie Field Malone.

And few toasts equal Kipling's "My lords ladies and gentlemen. For what there is of it—for such as it is—and for what it may be worth—will you drink to England and the English." Suggestion to Beau Nash of the theater program. What the undressed man will wear!

The Marry-Go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS—

My Daughter hear now the Miserere of a Summertime Cynic.

Verily verily what joy hath a woman in all her mid-summer diversions and her pursuit of merriment sun tan and the elusive male?

For behold a summer resort is a place where a damsel will resort to anything for amusement and where a man will resort to anything to escape from boredom.

Lo one man arriveth and another departeth yet there are never enough dance-partners to go around and unattached men are scarcer than pearls in the oysters.

The seeker after beauty courteth the actinic rays but while the back acquireth a beautiful tan the nose taketh on the hue of the rose and while the knees are browning, the shoulders are peeling.

Ears have returned to view and waistlines are in vogue again but the reducing diet still mortifyeth the flesh and the battle to keep down the hips is as tireless as ever.

The moon shineth upon the water and glorifyeth the world making any man in evening clothes to resemble a Prince Charming. But when a damsel beholdeth him next morning in a bathing suit he is a Total Stranger.

The week-end arriveth and to the bachelors and the summer-widowers come down from City and gladden the hearts of women. But alas upon Monday morning all these shall depart and what profit hath a damsel of all her vamping?

The summer bungalow offereth a retreat from the world. But the world soon beateth a path to our door—and of the finding of our towels and feeding of the gatecrashers there is no end.

The widows and matrons weave snares for the young and eligible men and the flappers must be content with the middle-aged and ineligible. The blonds live in the fear of fading hair and freckles and the brunets live in the fear of the blonds.

Go to go to! In the Spring all things seemed new and promising. But by mid August all is dry and tedium and lassitude. Alas life is just a Bowl of Raspberries.

One woman's bathing suit is as faded as another's—and one man's line is as tiresome as another.

One woman's chin is as tough as another's—and one man's lie is as smooth as another's.

One man's kisses are as [illegible]matic as another's—and of [illegible] alibis are as old as [illegible]

And there is no thrill [illegible] sun save the gladsome [illegible] that the Gay Vacation Days soon be over!—Copyright 1932 McNaught Syndicate Inc.

LIKING THE TEACHER.

Robert was a good student in the sixth grade. His best work was in history and languages but even in mathematics, by dint of special effort he ranked well. But next year in the seventh grade there was a change.

In the sixth grade he had had only one teacher who had taught him everything. He had felt for her the greatest liking and respect. In the seventh grade she continued to be his teacher in everything but mathematics. But Robert disliked the new mathematics teacher.

From the beginning of the term with her his work was less good than in the previous year. It was real, however, until the day when she erected his correct solution of a difficult problem on the black board with an acid smile and the remark, "Well, well, I wouldn't have thought it of that boy to be really bored by."

After that, doing mathematics homework was as he said "like pulling teeth" and in class he sat sullen or absent-minded. He would not work "for her" he said, but he redoubled his efforts in other directions with the result that he "flunked" [illegible] while he stood at the head of his class in all other subjects.

How it ruined Sondra stood on the pier staring out over the water

A little distance away John Anderson and Mark's mother stood talking together Sondra had wandered restlessly away from them finding it almost impossible to listen any more to Mrs Merriman's eternal questioning

What time is it now" Do you think the boat will be late"

She was a small spare woman as much unlike Mark as it is possible for mother and son to be

She knew all about Sondra's marriage—everybody knew—to Sonora it had been like writing The End on the last page of a story of which she had only just discovered what the ending was to be

She had not seen Anderson since the evening he left her at the cottage till this morning when he had motored up with Mark's mother to meet the boat

It had seemed a queer sort of journey—the three of them united by such strange ties—divided by emotions even more strange

Sondra knew that Mrs Merriman disliked her and disapproved of her but it did not seem to matter—nothing mattered

Even the fact of Anderson's presence has hardly hurt her—he seemed somehow so far removed

He was kind, attentive—courteous but there was something gone from his manner she had felt all the time as if he were stretching out an arm to keep her away from him

Presently he came across to her

The boat won't be in for an hour yet Sondra Well go and get something to eat You must be hungry

They had left the shore almost at daybreak Mrs Merriman who had stayed over night with Sondra had insisted on every one's being ready at an early but unnecessarily hour

I'm not hungry" Sondra said in answer to Anderson's suggestion But we will go if you like"

Sondra drank some coffee but she could not eat

She sat almost silent listening to Mrs Merrimans ceaseless questioning

Do you think he will be very ill" oughtn't we to have brought a doctor" How shall we get him home"

I was a relief when she left them and wandered outside to see if there was any further news of the boat

You haven't eaten anything Sondra Anderson said

I'm not hungry

She looked at him with inquiring eyes he was so calm and understood and yet if he loved her he must surely be suffering—just a little?

She said with sudden irritation—

I wonder what's become of Piers" It seems funny she has never written to me

What made you suddenly think of her"

She shrugged her shoulders

Perhaps because I want to do what she did run away from a man I do not love

He made no answer and she asked presently

I wonder what you are thinking about?

He smiled a little I dare say my thoughts are very much the same as yours Sondra—perhaps I am wondering why we make such a muddle of our lives

Madge and Mary Discover Strange Signs

MARY tightened her clasp upon me as I told her that she might as well come with me if she had promised to trail me She never had taken her arms from around me since she had told me of the injunction Dicky and the rest had laid upon her But now it was a hear ing she gave me one that left me breathless

You ARE such a good egg she said explosively And don't be mad by me if I jump around a little for joy because I'm going to have something to do I never would have omitted a single wip if Uncle Dicky hadn't sprung this on me but since he has I can't help feeling a bit wno over the chance to get out with you Waiting for some thing to happen that you can't help is the loathest thing Don't you think so"

Madge and Mary Start

Indeed I do dearest I told her and I couldn't be mad by you even if I wanted to You know that But I think our waiting is nearly ended It is going to be action I am sure from now on

We were at the head of the stairs as I finished We had thrown on our coats and hats as I was talking and were making all possible speed to the car But Mary's excitement could not be subordinated wholly to my desire for speed She caught her breath at my last words and caught my arm in a grip the strength of which I was sure she did not know

Oh What is it" she asked breathlessly I know something bad happened Can you tell me"

Yes I will tell you everything I know myself, but as we go Hurry

Oke Give me the keys I'll start the car have its nose turned toward the road and be in the other seat by the time you—ought to get there You shouldn't hurry like this you know

I know and thank you I returned handing her the keys And indeed I was grateful for the chance to slow down my pace and arrive unhurried unflurried, at the place where true to her promise Mary was waiting with motor running and car pointed toward a side street which would bring us out on the winding road leading to the mountain glen tea room

I thought you wouldn't want to go through the village" Mary said as I climbed into the driver's seat

"Thank you That was right "And then we were off driving as fast as I dared until we were a mile up the mountain road A glance at my wrist watch told me that I had two or three minutes to spare and I slowed down while I told Mary hastily of the telephone message I had received from the Chinese in Newark, and the bizarre directions he had given me, which I was about to follow,

"What a way" Mary commented explosively "But here we are! I like this place better every time I see it."

A Mountain Shrub

I echoed her words—wished that I had time to stop and look my fill of the picturesque little cottage that looked as if it were clinging to the rocky mountain side against which it was built, and dipping its feet into the stream that tumbled over rocks to two sides of its foundations. A rustic bridge over the entrance from the road, and the rushing waterfall which made it necessary gave forth what was to me the most appealing music in the world I might have wished I could spend—and and my days while I could hear a rushing mountain brook

As we crossed the bridge the door of the tea room swung open framing a tall handsome, middle aged woman whose welcoming gleaming face and calm eyes yet bell to them the look which the initiated know—the look of physical calm and gruelling hardships met and conquered by sheer strength of will Just behind her towered her husband as dark as she was fair little sinewy with the same look of self and hardships conquered that his wife's face wore

I thought it was you Mrs Merton said cordially coming down the steps with outstretched friendly hand I said to Henry when you got out of the car That's Mrs Graham I know

She turned to Mary with playful reproach

You didn't tell me your auntie was up here when you came up last night

Did you expect her to think of anything so unimportant as an aunt last night" I asked quickly purposefully for I did not wish her to learn the truth—that Mary had been careful to make her visit with Ivor to the tea room appear as a stop made on a trip through the glen

But I'm very much here now I said and we're both ravenous Will it take long to give us some tea and waffles and creamed chicken if we can get it in a hurry?

In ten minutes she promised Everything at hand for some customers disappointed me just now Oh they paid for their meal but they didn't wait for me to put it on the table—just hurried away only a few minutes before you came

I almost winced at the nudge which Mary surreptitiously gave me Evidently she shared my excited conjecture that these quietly acting customers might have some connection with the mysterious summons which had brought us to the tea room

Citizens in Mine Zone Are on Edge as Vigilantes Are Formed

By International News Service

ATHENS O Aug 12—Suspicion already directed at strangers in the backwoods section of Athens Perry and Hocking counties which Mrs Honey combed with once prosperous mines has increased two fold since formation of the vigilance committee here to halt the reign of terror in the coal strike

And in Athens itself prominent business and civic leaders are eyeing each other with a degree of suspicion not at every meeting wondering and speculating just whom the personnel of the vigilantes includes

Secrecy apparently is regarded as its best weapon as the vigilance committee has closely guarded the identities of its members Some of them according to unconfirmed reports do not even know each other or if they are personally acquainted do not know they are serving on the crime committee

It is believed that the success of the Secret Six in Chicago in stamping out gang wars there provided for organization of the group here

There will be no sensational wild riding or will shooting such as marked the vigilantes committees of the old west The committee it is believed will work quietly efficiently in an attempt to keep the peace as long unable for more than a score of acts of terrorism

Information gathered by the committee will be turned over to the authorities for evidence in prosecution of perpetrators of mine strike violence Thus arrest may follow arrest and conviction may follow conviction and still the vigilance committee will be the dreaded unknown

It is little wonder then that miners and hillside residents give a cool reception to all strangers Miners generally are a friendly loyal and trusting people but in time of coal strikes they have a metamorphosis becoming militant belligerent and even arrogant toward the stranger though withal loyal to each other

Athens Perry and Hocking counties the scene of the intermittent outbreaks of dynamiting shootings clubbings and other acts of violence are a natural scenic paradise

With the exception of the county seats Athens New Lexington and Logan and a few mining settlements and villages it is a backwoods wilderness section

Probably its greatest scenic assets are Rock House and Old Man's Cave both natural formations of towering rocks and cliffs resplendent with colors of the rainbow

The country is made up of rugged hills and thickly timbered valleys The physical characteristics of the geography lend themselves readily to the type of guerilla warfare which has frequently marked the mine strike since its inception April 1
